Personal Story Of Remembrance And War 1937 1948 is a compelling memoir by Irish-born British soldier, Thomas Patrick McKenna. The book chronicles his experiences during World War II, from his enlistment in the British Army in 1937 to his discharge in 1948.

McKenna's memoir is a vivid and moving account of his time in the war. He describes the horrors of battle, the camaraderie of his fellow soldiers, and the challenges of returning home to a world that had changed forever.

McKenna's writing is clear and concise, and his story is both informative and engaging. He provides a unique perspective on the war, and his memoir is a valuable addition to the literature of World War II.
